New Delhi July 8

The Union Cabinet and the Council of Ministers will meet on Thursday, a day after Prime Minister Narendra Modi called a major revamp and reshuffle of ministries.

Today's meetings will be held back-to-back. While the Cabinet is likely to take place at 3pm, the Council of Ministers will follow at 4pm.

Mr Modi called for the Prime Minister to convene meetings of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Council of Ministers with charge of the PMO and Finance for the first time. The Prime Minister is also expected to address the new ministers.

The Cabinet will take up the consideration of the 32nd Amendment Bill (2021) of the Constitution for consideration of the President to the Bill and a Bill to amend the Central Boards of Excise and Customs Act, 2016.

The Council of Ministers will start its meeting at 4pm. Mr Modi is expected to address the cabinet and will be followed by the Finance Ministry.

Yesterday's council saw the elevation of 13 ministers to cabinet rank, and the elevation of several other ministers of State to cabinet rank.

Seven ministers of state will be elevated to cabinet rank. These ministers will be among those who have been named as the new ministers of State.

New Delhi: June 8

Bharat Biotech, the Indian pharma company that developed Covishield, India’s COVID-19 vaccine, has revealed that the first seven doses of the vaccine were not given to anyone, creating a sense of urgency.

The company had previously announced that the first batch of 7 million doses would be ready by June 7, allowing for the rollout of the country’s vaccination drive.

However, the company now says that the first seven doses were not used as planned due to a “misunderstanding”.

The vaccines were held back for further testing and regulatory approval.

Bharat Biotech said that the first seven doses were not given to anyone and were still in the company’s possession.

The vaccine was developed in collaboration with the Serum Institute of India and is made using an adenoviral vector.

The company also noted that it has been working closely with the Indian government to ensure a smooth rollout of the vaccine.

“Bharat Biotech would like to assure that the responsible handling and delivery of the vaccines is being taken care of,” the company said.

The company is expected to produce around 800 million doses of Covishield by the end of the year, making it one of the largest vaccine manufacturers in the world.

The vaccine is currently being used in several countries around the world, including India, the US, and the UK.

Bharat Biotech is one of the leading pharmaceutical companies in India and is known for its innovative approaches to healthcare.

The company’s commitment to innovation and excellence has earned it a reputation for producing high-quality medicines and vaccines.

With the current global pandemic, Bharat Biotech is playing a crucial role in the fight against COVID-19 by providing its vaccines to countries in need.

The company’s success in developing and producing Covishield is a testament to its dedication to improving the lives of people around the world.

Bharat Biotech’s efforts in this regard are not only commendable but are also an example of how a company can contribute significantly to global healthcare and well-being.

The company’s commitment to innovation and excellence has earned it a reputation for producing high-quality medicines and vaccines.
